

Interview with two participants talking about the Language Café that was held at "Meeting Point"

Leeds, UK. The two participants didn't want to show their faces on camera, so - during the interview - the one participant was creating a nail art on the other.